FUNDRAISING AT WORK

Sheffield Hospitals Charitable Trust is a local charity that could, at some time, have a major impact on the life of anyone living in, and around, Sheffield.

We rely on the generosity and enthusiasm of individuals, and of companies, to ensure our work to improve patient care continues.

There are a number of ways that companies can get involved – and you can help us do this.

Staff fundraising is fun, but can also be an effective way of building teams and staff morale. Staff work together to raise money to improve the lives of patients and their families in the city where they live and work. Plus companies will often match the amount of money raised, making your efforts go further.

Why not:

- Have a dress down day?
- Organise a dinner?
- Hold an 80s night?
- Hold a book sale?
- Organise a sports tournament?
- Have a golf day?
- Get a team together and do a sponsored run?

Lotteries are easy ways of raising money if you can sell tickets at work to your colleagues. Or you could even get your colleagues to sell tickets to their friends and families. Sheffield Hospitals Charitable Trust can supply the official tickets, so all you need to do is find some suitable prizes, and you're away! (nb. The charity does need to be informed prior to any raffle being held).

Payroll Giving is an easy way for both companies and employees to show support for a charity. Donations are made directly from an employees gross salary, for as much or as little as the individual would like, and with immediate tax relief.

The benefit to Sheffield Hospitals Charitable Trust, is that payroll giving provides a regular and reliable source of income. This means that our future charitable work can be planned, and we know that money will be there for us to see it through.

Nominate us as a partner charity and Sheffield Hospitals Charitable Trust will benefit from a full year of fundraising activity. In return the company will get numerous opportunities for promotion, and will clearly demonstrate the company's commitment for a respected, local, charity.
